

JAP MARSHAL JOINS ARMIES

Oyama's Three Divisions Are United North of the Tai Tse.

SPIES TAKEN AT ST. PETERSBURG

Lull Is Now Looked For Around Mukden--The English Believe That Baltic Squadron Will Not Pass Suez.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
Tokio, Sept. 12.—Marshal Oyama reports that a large body of Russian cavalry appeared at Pin Tai Tzu which is located east of the railroad and between Yen Tai and Mukden. He adds that the Russians are making no further moves other than to keep in touch with the Japanese.

Denial by Russians.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—It is officially denied here that General Mischchenko who commanded the Russian army at Liaoyang was killed in the battle of Sept. 3. Gen. Sakaroff reports that the Japanese have not penetrated north of Yenta in any considerable numbers but have several large camps on the railway south of there and towards Liaoyang.

Kuropatkin in Retreat.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—Kuropatkin's army is again in retreat. The forces which have been resting at Mukden several days are now retreating on Tieling where a stand is to be made against the Japanese advance.

Two Japs Arrested.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—Two Japanese were arrested here today. One had joined the Greek Catholic church and married a Russian lady. From documents in the hands of the officials it is believed that both of these men are Japanese officers acting as spies.

Three Armies Join.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—Rain continues at the front. The three armies of Field Marshal Oyama are reported to be united north of the Tai Tse river, but there are no indications of an advance. It is not believed that Kuropatkin contemplates making any serious stand at Mukden.

They call attention to the friction which has existed in the administration of the Russian army in the Orient and point to the possibility of Gen. Kuropatkin casting a generous share of the blame for Russian defeat on Alexieff, with the viceroys' blunder of months past as a basis for his argument.

In the departure of the Baltic fleet from Cronstadt and the announcement that this time the ships are really off for the Orient, the experts see a determination on the part of Russia to continue the war to a finish, notwithstanding the setbacks received both at sea and on land.

Call for More Troops.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—In a telegram to Emperor Nicholas, dated Sept. 10, Gen. Kuropatkin says:

"There were no hostilities Saturday except insignificant patrol encounters in which we sustained no casualties. This brief report from Gen. Kuropatkin constitutes the latest news from the front. The place at which the dispatch was filed is not indicated, but the report seems to show an almost entire suspension of active operations on both sides.

The emperor has called to arms the reserve troops in twenty-two districts of the government of Kherson. Res.

HILTON FAMILY MAY GET PART OF $20,000,000

Gustav Hilton Finds That He Is a First Cousin to Deceased Nevada Millionaire.

Three years ago a man by the name of John Thompson Hilton died in Virginia City, Nevada, leaving an estate valued at $20,000,000. He appears to have left no will as attorneys in charge of the property at once advertised for heirs. Apparently they have been advertising without result during all this time. About two months ago a Boston paper containing this advertisement was brought to the notice of Gustav Hilton, who lives near Milton avenue in this city.

Finds He Is First Cousin.
Out of curiosity, Mr. Hilton began a search through the archives and genealogical tables of his family and was surprised to find that he was an own cousin of the Nevada millionaire. Correspondence was quickly taken up and the work of establishing the relationship has been going on for many weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Hilton recently left for Emden, Maine, where resides the only living sister of the Janesville man, Mrs. Polly Stevens.

Heard of in Chicago.
The children of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton who will doubtless come in for a share of the estate should the claim be satisfactorily established are: Architect L. L. Hilton, Miss Daisy Hilton who is a graduate of the Janesville high school and who, after acting as stenographer for Dr. Mills and the Parker Pen Co., went to Chicago about a year ago to accept a position in the large plumbing establishment of Closs & Co., and Mrs. William Bailey, formerly Miss Emma Hilton. It is probable that Miss Daisy Hilton forgot the secrecy that had been enjoined regarding these proceedings and spoke of the matter, as a report emanated from Chicago today that she was an heiress to an estate of $10,000,000 left by a cousin, one Joseph Bailey.

Desire Not to Talk.
Architect Hilton when interviewed this afternoon said that it was the wish of his parents that the matter might be kept quiet until things were established beyond question or doubt. All he would say in addition to the above was that he had been given to understand that something important was to happen in a few days.

M. G. Jeffris will open the republican campaign at a big mass-meeting to be held at the Pabst theatre, Milwaukee, Friday evening of this week. This meeting is to be followed at once by an active campaign of speech-making in every portion of the state. It has been decided by the leaders of the party that the time has come for aggressive work. Gov. La Follette is to be met on his own ground and statements and glaring sophistries allowed to go unchallenged for the past four years will be taken up by men fully equipped to expose their falsity before the people of this great commonwealth.

Will Tour the State.
In this state-wide campaign for true republicanism M. G. Jeffris will be the leading figure. Commencing Friday night he will set forth upon a tour that will embrace every section, and his last word will not be spoken until the eve of election. Other speakers of known ability have volunteered their services. More than a hundred orators will enter the field and even this large number will be augmented by speakers sent in by the national committee. Mr. Jeffris will be the only speaker Friday evening. He will review the whole situation and sound the keynote of the campaign.

DEFENDS THE PARTY POLICY

President Roosevelt's Letter of Acceptance Made Public.

A DOCUMENT OF INTERROGATIONS

To the Opposition as Well as Firm and Positive Opinions on the Great Questions of the Hour.

New York, Sept. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt's letter of acceptance of the nomination for the presidency was given to the press Sunday, and delivered Monday to Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, who was permanent chairman of the Republican national convention in June and chairman of the notification committee. He defends the last seven years of Republican control.

The managers of the Republican national campaign believe it will meet entirely its purpose as the guiding piece of literature for their side in the contest between the parties.

Response to Attacks.
President Roosevelt declares that the Democrats attack Republican policies and acts of the last seven years only by misrepresenting what has been done. He then proceeds to review those acts in detail, and scatters through his 12,000-word letter scores of interrogation points, bluntly asking the Democrats what they are going to do different, or what different they would dare attempt if charged with power. As to Panama, he says, the constitution must be observed positively as well as negatively, and says he would be derelict in his duty if he used a false construction of the constitution as a "shield for weakness and timidity, or as an excuse for governmental impotence."

Army None Too Large.
It is clearly set forth that the present executive thinks the present regular army is no larger than the country requires, and as to the Philippines, declaring the Democrats have occupied three distinct positions in fifty days, he says that to retrace our steps would be to give "proof of an infirm and unstable national purpose."

In conclusion he says the progress made may be taken as a measure of make if the people again intrust the progress we shall continue to government to the Republicans.

CARNIVAL SHOWS ARE PERSISTENT

Want to Come to Janesville, and Are Willing to Take Delegation to Oshkosh to Inspect Attractions.

Mr. Litt, another agent, of the Farri Bros' carnival shows visited Janesville this morning and conferred with some of the city fathers. He said that his company did not care to go to Beloit, notwithstanding the fact that Manager Clough of the Interurban road had agreed to the proposition of granting a one fare rate for the round trip to that city. The show management wants to come to Janesville. In order to convince the aldermen and business men that the shows are clean and alright he is instructed to offer to take a number of gentlemen to Oshkosh, all expenses paid, to inspect them. Mr. Litt was referred to Alderman Matheson and had a lengthy conference with him this morning. The alderman told him that he opposed the shows on business grounds and that the question of cleanliness was not the only question. The streets were torn up already and the school authorities objected to the carnival because it would break up their work for a whole week if it should come here. He could not be moved from his emphatic disapproval, even by the statement made by Mr. Litt that the concern had had 200 worth of printing done on the assurance of the first agent who visited this city. Mr. Litt left to interview the business men. Alderman Matheson says that if the matter isn't settled yet he thinks a public meeting should be called. At least twenty-five business men have spoken with him since the council meeting, in hearty commendation of the action taken that evening.

ATTORNEY M. G. JEFFRIS WHO WILL STUMP FOR REPUBLICANS

FAY'S OPINION
OF DES MOINESTOLD POLICE OFFICIAL IT WAS PETTY LARCENY TOWN.

P. H. BURNS ON VISIT HERE

Tells an Anecdote of Criminal Who Was Delivered from Rock County Jail.

"I hear you couldn't keep Eddie Fay in Jansville," said P. H. Burns of Des Moines, Iowa, who has been visiting at the home of his nephew, George Croft, for the past few days. Mr. Burns left Jansville for the west thirty-five years ago and until recently been assistant chief of police at Des Moines. The group of bystanders was immediately interested, once the name of Eddie Fay was mentioned. Continuing he said: "That Fay is one of the cleverest criminals in the United States today. His services are easily worth $5,000 a week to the gang with which he operates. They can afford to spend any amount of money or risk any means and methods to keep him out of the hands of the law. For fine workmanship and cunning that gang has no equal anywhere."

Some of Fay's friends. "I first saw Fay three years ago. We had entertained several notorious criminals that summer and one of them was 'Red' Connors. I ran across Connors one day and asked him what his game was. 'Well,' he said, 'I'm looking for something in the burglary or hold-up line and may take a hand in the murdering game if it comes my way.' We took him to jail and made it a point to see that he left town a few days later. That same summer a girl named Nellie McKissen, a wealthy daughter of Sam McKissen, a wealthy hardware dealer, married a stranger by the name of Roberts. Her father had died in the meantime."

"Diamond" Roberts. "This Roberts came to Des Moines and some way or other his face looked familiar. We had the Bertillon descriptions and worked it out after a while. Meeting him one day I gave him to understand that we didn't like his company. 'I'm managing property here,' he said, and came to find out he was taking care of the estate of the late Sam McKissen. When I pressed him further he told me that the head of the detective bureau told him that it would be all right. This chief detective was above me in position but I went to him and said: 'Here is what kind of a game is this. Diamond Roberts is making his home in this city and says you told him it would be all right. The chief detective never batted an eye as he said: 'Yes, I told him it would be all right. If he wouldn't operate here, what do you think of that?'

A 'Petty Larceny Town.' "Well, I kept a lookout for 'Diamond' and one day I found him in a saloon with another fellow. He hailed me as I entered and asked me to have a drink. When I refused he pressed me to take a cigar, which I did. He then introduced me to his friend, Eddie Fay. After conversing a while I gave them to understand that I was going to take them to jail. At that Fay spoke up: 'Look here, I don't want no crumb on me. This is only a petty larceny town anyway. There's nothing here for me.' They agreed to get out and I put Ed. Johnson on the trail to see that they did get out. Both of them took the night train for Omaha. Yes, I knew that Roberts who was the same man. He was the most expert diamond thief in the world. Used to lift the stones right out of their settings and no one would be the wiser, until it was too late."

Running thirteen hours a day the canning factory is just able to handle the corn and cucumbers that are coming in now by the hundreds of loads. During the last three days the farmers have unloaded at the factory an average of seven thousand bushels of sweet corn per day. Cucumbers to be turned into all kinds and grades of pickles have been delivered by the tons and in about two weeks the cabbage will start coming in. During this season of the year hundreds of hands are employed ten hours a day and all who care to earn money can work thirteen, which is true of a number.

Late Saturday evening Bridge Foreman P. J. Clark of Milwaukee saw a man approach the obstruction on Court street where the new bridge on the river is being built with a team. The man, being built with a team, dismounted and started to move the lumber out of the way. Thinking that the visitor was attempting to steal the lumber he informed the police. The team was identified and about midnight Officer Fanning arrested Oly Knudson, the owner. He spent the night in the lock-up and was released Sunday morning on request of the foreman. Mr. Knudson is an employee of the Jansville Machine Co. and seems to have merely become a little mixed in his bearings.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE SCHOOLSSUPT. HEMINGWAY SUBMITS
FINDINGS TO STATE OFFICE.

DAILY ATTENDANCE IS SMALL

In Six of Ten Townships in First
District; and Consolidation
Is Recommended.

County Supt. Hemingway has just completed his annual report to the State Supt. From his report the following data are taken: Last year there were 5,077 children of school age—that is between four and twenty years of age in the first district. In 1903 there were 5,141. Of this number 3,519 attended school this past year, while 3,625 attended school in 1903. There are 2,652 between seven and fourteen years, of which 2,376 attended school twenty weeks or more as required by law; in 1903 there were 2,586, of which 2,344 attended the required time. From these figures it appears that the new compulsory education law has not had the desired effect, at least in the rural schools. This is due to the fact that while cities of 10,000 or more must appoint a superintendent, the small cities, villages and districts may do so or not, and they have elected not to do so. The law should be so amended as to make it obligatory upon school boards, whether in city or country, to appoint a trustee officer.

Small Daily Attendance.
Six of the ten townships comprising the first superintendent district had an average daily attendance of less than fifteen pupils per school. The town of Plymouth had the largest daily attendance—a trifle less than twenty—while Newark had the smallest—a trifle over eleven. These figures furnish an excellent argument in favor of consolidation of schools.

Slight Increase in Wages.
While there has been considerable talk of greatly increased wages for rural teachers during the past year, the statistics do not show that there has been any great increase. During 1903 twenty-eight teachers taught in the county for not more than $25 a month. In 1904 twelve taught for the same wages. In 1903 thirty-four taught for not more than $30, while in 1904 forty-six labored for the same remuneration. In 1903 twenty received not more than $35 while in 1904 the number receiving these wages increased to 38. Those receiving more than $35 were practically all employed in the city and graded schools. In the different townships the wages have increased as follows:

(a) In the town of Avon average wages increased from $27.48 in 1903 to $32.82 in 1904.
(b) In the town of Center from $32.38 in 1903, to $37.67 in 1904.
(c) In Fulton from $28.40 to $34.37.
(d) In Jansville from $25.41 to $27.50.
(e) In Magnolia from $31.98 to $32.35.
(f) In Newark from $27.70 to $30.07.
(g) In Plymouth from $22.40 to $32.50.
(h) In Porter from $28.45 to $30.29.
(i) In Springfield from $28.70 to $32.93.
(j) In Union from $23.19 to $29.15.

In 1903 the total amount expended for building and repairing was $54,58; in 1904, $12,353.82 was expended for same purposes. In 1903 $1,215 was expended for this purpose on the various rural school houses while in 1904 the amount was $3,013.91, showing that there is a tendency on the part of many of the school districts to put their school houses in better condition. The city of Edgerton and Jolt district No. 3 Center have each built a new school house during the past year. The most extensive repairs were made by district No. 3, Avon, and No. 2, Magnolia. There has been considerable work done on the school houses this summer and they will be in better condition when school opens this fall than they have been for some years past. There is a tendency on the part of many districts not to make any extensive repairs for fear that consolidation of schools will soon be inaugurated, but at present there seems to be no immediate prospect of consolidation taking place in Rock county and it will be perfectly safe for school districts to put their buildings in proper repair.

Total Number of Schools.
Supt. Hemingway has under his supervision 109 schools, enrolled 3,592 pupils and employed 144 teachers last year. During this past year 100 were licensed to teach school in the first district while fourteen were refused certificates because they were too young or too poorly prepared.

Supt. Antsdel has about an equal number. By a resolution of the county board passed at the last January session the two districts are to be placed under the supervision of one superintendent.

A REPRESENTATIVE
FROM JANSVILLEMan by the Name of Bates Apprehended for Selling Helpers'
Tickets at State Fair.

Giving his residence as Jansville and answering to the name of Bates, a "centleman" grafter was apprehended Thursday night outside the fair grounds in Milwaukee for selling helpers' tickets. In some manner the would-be get-rich-quick disciple had secured a goodly sized bunch of tickets and had proceeded to dispose of his wares. The number of tickets was diminishing, the amount of lucre was accumulating, but the hand of the law was also reaching out and Mister Bates was under arrest. But leniency seemed to be the management's policy and the money his desire, for the ticket-seller turned over his ill-gotten gains and the management turned loose their prisoner.

PECK'S BAD BOY
NOT IN LIBRARYEX-GOVERNOR'S CLASSIC IS IG-NORED IN JANSVILLE.

OPEN EVERY EVENING NOW

Readers Are Once More Haunting
Book-Shelves—Demand for Fiction—Falling Off.

That rare and beautiful classic of childhood, "Peck's Bad Boy," is not in the public library. Worse than that, those in charge of the institution cannot remember that it ever has been. And still worse, they maintain that it is on the list of books NOT recommended for library shelves. What do the admirers of the ex-governor of Wisconsin and candidate for re-election on the democratic ticket think of that? It looks like politics—this discrimination against democratic masterpieces.

Open Every Day Now.
The library is now open every afternoon at half past one o'clock and the doors remain open each evening until nine o'clock. During the months of July and August, as has been the custom, the building has been closed all evenings except Wednesdays and Saturdays. School has been called, the clubs are re-assembling, and the so-called "winter patronage" at the library is re-appearing at the book-counters. As the cool days approach there is a noticeable falling off in the demand for light fiction, and an increase in the calls for solid reading matter. The hammock hours of romance are nearly at an end.

New New Books Yet.
The library board has not held a meeting in three months and there are not many new books on the shelves to greet the returning patrons. As soon as the vacancy on the board is filled a meeting will doubtless be held and volumes much desired will be supplied. The subscription library has made possible the purchase of a few new books during the summer months.

Reading Room Popular.
There has been a larger attendance at the reading room of late than ever before. The best books of the library are on the shelves in this room and it is a very attractive place to spend a few leisure hours. The so-called "history cards" which are now being issued entitle holders to draw two books, one of fact and the other of fiction. Mrs. L. S. Best is librarian; Miss Skavlen, assistant; Miss Hathorn has charge of the children's room; and Miss Richards is acting as apprentice. Mr. De Forest will also become a member of the corps about the middle of October.

News for the Railroad Men.

Plans for compelling steam and electric railroads to install interlocking systems at every grade crossing in Illinois were discussed at a conference held recently between the state railroad and warehouse commission and railway representatives. Among those present were General Superintendent I. H. Ashton and Chief Engineer E. C. Carter, of the C. & N. W. and Attorney Baylies, of the Rockford, Beloit and Jansville railway.

H. W. Battin, of Fond du Lac, formerly superintendent of the northern Wisconsin division of the North-Western road, leaves October first for the Isle of Pines where he will make his permanent home. Not as Fast as It Seems.
The highest speed which can be attained in an "express" elevator, in a very high office building, is about seventy feet a minute. That is equivalent to a mile in more than seven minutes, and many a pedestrian has walked for considerable distances at nearly as fast a pace.

PITCHER AIKEN'S WONDERFUL GAME

WILLIE M'GILL WAS OUTCLASSED AT YOST'S PARK.

MARQUETTES BEATEN HANDILY

Roughs From Beloit and Clinton Caused First Disorder of Season—Sax Beat Sandy Sinks.

"Wee Willie" McGill found himself in faster company than he could travel in, with credit to himself, at Yost's park yesterday afternoon. All the honors went to Frank Aiken, a Janesville boy whose wonderful talents in the pitcher's box have but recently become patent to the baseball fans. After witnessing his splendid work in shutting out ten men and preventing the opposing team from scoring for the fourth time in as many successive games, there were not a few who predicted that he would soon be traveling the path of former Pitcher Groth of the Port Washington team. The four successive games in which shutouts were recorded were with Port Washington, Peconica at Broadhead, Jefferson, and the Marquettes of Chicago. Aiken has been patiently working during past years, perfecting his delivery by throwing balls at a target, and well deserves any success that may come to him.

First Disorder of Season
The game with the Marquettes yesterday was witnessed by about 1,200 spectators. In the number were about 200 from Beloit, Clinton, and some of the neighboring cities and towns. A gang of hoodlums from the latter place, who were rooting for the Chicago team, were responsible for the first disorder that has been seen on the diamond this season. The trouble came in the fourth inning when Umpire A. C. Larson made two decisions that displeased this particular coterie. Rundle of Chicago bunted a ball on his third strike which was missed by Tommy Sullivan on third and rolled across the line. The umpire called it a foul ball. Thereupon the gang which had been offering vociferous dissent to many of the other decisions of the official, led by an intrepid fat man from Clinton, left the bleachers and marched upon the field to interview the umpire personally. Turn-key Roy Graves who happened to be on the scene at once took a hand and gave Mr. Fat Man a few whiffs that sent him spinning to the sidelines. The "riot" was soon quelled and five of the Clinton Maroons was put in to preside over the balance of the game.

Story of Game
The story of the game is told in the following summary: Earned runs, Janesville, 8; first on balls—off Aiken, 1; off McGill, 1; left on bases—Janesville, 5; Marquettes, 2; first base on errors—Janesville, 1; two-base hits—Broughton, Aiken; struck out by Aiken—10; by McGill, 6; passed balls—Rundle; hit by pitcher—1, McGill; score—Janesville, 9; Marquettes of Chicago, 0.

WAS HIT BECAUSE HE REFUSED COAL

Patrick Joyce is Alleged to Have Been Attacked by Engineer Mann at St. Paul Coal Sheds.

In the coal sheds of the St. Paul road Saturday P. Joyce of this city and Wallace Mann of Chicago indulged in an altercation, in which Joyce got the worst of it. The trouble was the result of a demand on the part of Mann, who is an engineer on the road, for some coal, which Joyce refused. It is alleged that Mann then proceeded to punish what he considered an insult and he now must defend an assault and battery action. He was arrested on Saturday on a warrant sworn out by Joyce. The matter has been reported to the officials of the railroad, and it being his second offense of this kind something may be done.

WOODMEN RETURN TIRED BUT HAPPY

EXPOSITION VISITORS REACHED HOME YESTERDAY.

LOCAL TEAM DRILLED BEST

In the Pony Contest, But Failed to Score Well in Ax, Manual—Next Encampment at Milwaukee.

Tired but happy after their week's trip the first delegation of the Woodmen reached this city from St. Louis at nine o'clock yesterday morning. The balance reached Janesville in the evening. Some, in their eagerness to get home, went to the depot at St. Louis early and found that they could get home on an earlier train than the one scheduled. These reached Janesville twelve hours ahead of their camp mates.

On the way down last Sunday, by some mistake, the baggage car was left in Chicago and it looked for awhile as if the Foresters would sleep without blankets the first night. But L. P. Peck, traveling passenger agent of the Alton, who had agreed to take them there safely Sunday, took the battalion of forty men and paid for their night's lodging at the Hotel Napoleon Bonaparte. The reports that some Foresters were compelled to sleep in the open the first night, owing to the lack of provision for sleeping quarters and that the waiters struck when the Foresters were at mess, is news to the local team members.

Drill Competition
In the pony team drill on Tuesday, in which Janesville secured second money, there were eleven teams entered. Janesville was undoubtedly the crack team when it came to drill work and not a mark stood against them in this part. In appearance and in the ax manual the local men were not up to standard. It was expected that they would drill at one thirty, but instead they were called out at eleven-thirty and several were unshaven and their uniforms were not neat. During the fancy drill in which the local men participated and which surpassed any practice there was nothing to be heard but a continuous din of applause. In the battalion drill on Thursday a poorer showing was made and an order was given by the major which had never been practiced. The Beloit 1907 team won second in the junior contest and Beloit 348 sixth in the same. Rockford received third.

Thousands in Parade

The feature of the exposition Thursday was the Woodman parade in which there were over a thousand uniformed men marching. Immediately after addresses were delivered by the head officers of the organization and the governors of several states who are members. The prize money won by the local team will be put in the treasury and preparations for a still better showing in Milwaukee next June will start immediately. The biennial national encampment and meeting of the supreme lodge will be held there next summer. The watchword will be "A Million Men for Milwaukee." The popular song "Meet Me in St. Louis" was converted into a Woodman song of "Meet me in Milwaukee. I'll be there."

Military Features

The encampment being semi-military, the military features of the fair were of particular interest and nearly every Forester enjoyed the three battles of the Boer war that are produced by General Cronje and his men, the miniature battle of Santiago and the Philippine band and troops. The Filipinos under the command of American officers present one of the finest pictures when drilling on the plaza, and the concerts given by the band were the attractions for the Foresters at all times.

Night-Shirt Parade

Nor was the usual fun of the military camp left out. One night the Toledo battalion, whose quarters were just across the street from where the Janesville boys were situated, turned out in the famous night-shirt parade. The fun had fairly started when the Jefferson guards interfered. Tossing in the blanket was also indulged in. Some small colored boys who hung about camp were given several aerial journeys and one of the Janesville team also took a few trips sky-ward—this being a special treatment for the "rookies."

The Last Day

Saturday there was a wild scramble for souvenirs and a rush of getting ready to return. Governor Penypacker of Missouri presented the prize money in the morning. Those who returned yesterday morning were: F. Hutchinson of Milton Junction, Oscar Mable, Chas. Caniff, Scott Sutton, Frank Vosburg, Sherman Fisher, William Day, R. V. Knox, and Harry Rathgim. Lynn Whaley came as far as Chicago, but changed cars for Rockford where he will visit friends. Those who returned at night were: G. F. Barriage, G. W. Jones, W. F. Harvey, M. P. Birmingham, A. W. Meyer, H. Jacke, L. L. Hillton, W. H. Green and W. H. Lorrman.

CAVE-IN AT THE PARK STREET DITCH TODAY

Contractor Benson Experienced All Kinds of Trouble This Afternoon.

The digging machine while at work on Park street this afternoon came in contact with another sewer, which filled the ditch with water, and after getting started again the walls of the ditch on either side commenced to cave in which delayed the progress of digging for several hours.

More from Keokuk: Keokuk, Iowa, is very anxious to learn more about our fourth celebration and Nonesuch Bros. circus. Another Janesville business man has received a letter from O. J. Sala, similar to the one which was printed in the Gazette Saturday, inquiring concerning the features and general plan of the parade.

GOLDEN WORDS OF FRANCIS MURPHY

CHARMED IMMENSE CONGREGATION LAST EVENING.

LOVE IS THE ONLY WAY

Its Potent Influence Can Save the Drunkard From His Feltters and Clear Divorce Court.

Before a congregation that crowded the First Congregational church edifice to the doors last evening Francis Murphy told his intimate stories, blending humor with pathos and holding the attention of every listener as he drove home his lessons of the potency of love in this naughty world. President A. E. Matheson of the Murphy league in introducing the speaker said that a good name was rather to be chosen than great riches and that the good name of Francis Murphy had done more in advancing the work of the organization named after him, than money without the name could have accomplished.

Kindness on Earth
"Dear friends," said the venerable visitor, "I am delighted to be here and to be presented by this young Christian gentleman in such an eloquent, scholarly, and kindly way."

Is a fine fellow, isn't he? There is a lot of leveled splendor about him and the league he represents. God bless him! I thank him for his words.

He has enabled me to go up and down the earth speaking kindness—his name whose service is perfect freedom. I was crossing the continent and couldn't pass by Janesville. I sent word to Dr. Mills that I could come and he bade me to do so, assuring me of a hearty welcome. And here I am.

Put More Trust in Him
"I can't forget the city and the great kindness with which I was received on former occasions. When I came here just after we had spanked the Spaniards we were pleasantly disappointed in the people we asked for things. We want to believe a little more in God. We met the man who owned a hall and he said 'Yes.' We asked for furniture and it was given. Ask and ye shall receive. There is one thing we must learn better—to believe in God, and the promise He has made. Oh glory to His name—I wish I could tell you of the good He has done for me."

Why Not Help Ministers
After extending personal greetings to the clergy and the league members with whom he had become acquainted on former visits, the speaker resumed his discourse. He asked his hearers to "come and hear our minister" passed along by everyone would fill the churches. He urged all within the range of his voice to be simple—to go to God with their sorrows and heart-aches. The men about him who had engaged in the good work had made a record which by the grace of God would never die. Their influence would be sweeter than roses and carnation flowers. "It is love, we haven't had love enough. When a couple gets the president of this society to break the links that bind them together, what is their secret trouble? They are bankrupt in love. If they only had time to count a few posies together all would be well."

Love and Drink Habit
"It's love that cures men of the drink habit. It cures me when I was fettered and in slavery. A man has a wife and beautiful children. The wife says: 'Don't go, John.' 'Oh, well, now, I guess I can take care of myself. You're a woman. I guess I boss this ranch.' Now men—listen to your wives. You'll not regret it. It's a manly man who listens to his wife. There is nothing so elegant as to see a gentleman defer to his wife. When he sought to win her heart he waited on her—it's a mistake to cense. If I had taken the advice of my wife I would never have known that awful gall which no tongue can tell.

Saloon and Club-house
"The saloon and club-house. On the club-house I know that you are going to build one here and have respectable drunkards—have it so that a man may be put in bed and you may hold him there. The whole drink business is bad. If you could manage to take the profit out of it—do as they do in Norway—give commission on soft drinks sold and none on hard, much of the evil would disappear. The sale of intoxicating liquors has decreased seventy-five per cent in Norway. But Christ came down for publicans and sinners. You practical men must go down and mix with the publicans. They're our brethren and we send money to the Hittites, the Amorites, and all the other lots. Because a man drinks do not call him bad. A father may be disappointed in a son who drinks but he must not hate him. Do you know that lots of us are very gentle and kindly to another man's children while to our own we say: 'Sit down! Shut up! If you don't behave I'll throw you out the window!' I wonder how some children are as good as they are. They come into the world with hearts filled with love. Buy the boy something and he'll tell the whole neighborhood that he's got the best dad in the world. Scatter sunshine in your own homes and when you buy a seal-skin squire buy it for your own wife, not someone else's. The man who rears children except in kindness is cultivating sorrow. Lots of girls run away with scapegraces because their parents have been tyrants in opposing the courtship."

Gospel of Love
"It's love I'm working for out in California. Such hedge-rows of lilies, carnations, and geraniums—with a sky that is the face of God, Himself, and stars that you may go near and touch with the tips of your fingers, and the soft breath that comes up from the Pacific and filters through the leaves of orange orchards. There a generous, whole hearted people laying the foundations of a great city—a city growing 40,000 each year. Oh, say, come over and see us. There's a potato in the pot for you!"

Mr. Murphy left today for Whitewater, after which he will go east to Pittsburgh and other cities. He is at present residing in Los Angeles, Cal.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, September 12, 1864.—There is quite too much drunkenness and rowdiness on our streets on Sundays for the credit of any place. Either saloons should be closed or else policemen enough should be employed to keep the peace.

It is said that an envoy was lately sent to Maximilian by Jeff. Davis to open diplomatic relations between the rebel chief and the new-Bedged Emperor. Maximilian refused to receive or have anything to do with him—declaring that he did not know the Confederacy, that it was not a recognized power, etc.

Putting down the Printers' Combination.—The Chicago Times says: This morning discharged their entire force of printers and put a force of forty young women in their places. These young women, it seems, have been learning the art of typesetting in private rooms for several months preparatory to this event.

A great man is always willing to be little. Whilst he sits on the cushion of advantage he goes to sleep. When he is pushed, tormented, afflicted, he has a chance to learn something. He has been put on his wits, on his manhood, he has gained facts, learned his ignorance, is cured of the insanity of conceit, has good moderation and real skill.—Emerson.

Macadamizing.—Our city authorities are doing a good work in repairing West Milwaukee street, by carting in small stones and breaking them up, thus forming a smooth and solid roadbed. It is high time something was done for the improvement of this street, as it was in a most wretched condition and a disgrace to the town.

New York, Sept. 10.—Special to the Post, dated Washington, Sept. 10, says news from the army of the Potomac states that a heavy artillery duel took place on Thursday without a decisive result, and that Lee is still massing troops on our left. Gold closed in New York at 222.

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, Sept. 10.—The enemy's fire has been kept up all day on the center and right. They seem excited by the surprise last night and appear determined to annoy our pickets as much as possible.

Baltimore, Sept. 10.—The American has the following from General Averell, dated ten o'clock, Thursday night: "Early retreating this morning toward Winchester. I am on his heels. We have whipped Vaughan's cavalry captured all of his train which was not burned and taken two battle flags. He has no artillery. I have cut off his line.—W. W. Averell, Brig. Gen."

As the democracy of this country has no organ of its own in which the praises of the two George's may be sung, and their virtues made known to the faithful in these parts, we gladly give up a portion of our space to a speech of their candidate for congress, made at Madison, July 29, 1862. Gen. George B. Smith was next called out. He didn't want to make a speech here.

REMEMBER THE DEAD PASTORS

Free Baptist Conference Holds Service for the Deceased.

Hillsdale, Mich., Sept. 12.—A memorial service was held Sunday by the delegates to the general conference of the Free Baptist church, which has been in session here. President George E. Ball of Kenka Park, N. Y., delivered the memorial address, and Rev. C. F. Mosher of Boston read a list of the deceased ministers of the conference. Rev. Mr. Manter of Maine led the Young People's society services, and Rev. A. T. Bailey of Lewiston, Me., delivered the sermon.

PRINCE BISMARCK IS VERY ILL

Reports in Circulation Give Cancer or Food Poisoning as Cause.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—Contradictory reports about the health of Prince Hereditary Bismarck, who is seriously ill at Friedrichsruhe, have been circulating for some time. One version pronounced his case hopeless, hinting at abdominal cancer. Another says the prince is merely suffering from the result of ptomaine poisoning, due to eating bad fish in England several months ago.

Antarctic Vessel Arrives.

Cincinnati, Sept. 12.—President Grillo of the American association has suspended Manager Cantillon of the Milwaukee team for the balance of the season and fined him $100 for his assault on Umpire Shuster in the game at St. Paul.

State Department Not Anxious.

Washington, Sept. 12.—State department officials will not discuss the threatened rupture with Panama, growing out of the establishment of custom houses and postoffices in the canal zone.

WHOLE FARM IS DISAPPEARING

Lake in Noble County, Indiana, Slowly Swallowing Man's Land.

La Porte, Ind., Sept. 12.—Thousands of people have visited the location in Noble county where a tract of land several acres in extent surrounding a lake has disappeared. The land that has been swallowed up has been farmed for many years and one of the heaviest crops of recent seasons has been harvested this year. J. C. Holden, whose land is disappearing, says the ground began to disappear a few feet at a time, until now water covers a large section of his farm, and this despite the fact that a drought has existed. State Geologist Blatchley will make an investigation to determine the cause of the phenomenon. Mr. Holden fears his entire farm will disappear from sight.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF FARMER

Revolver Found by His Side, but Suicide Theory Is Scouted.

Dublin, Ind., Sept. 12.—While returning from a neighbor's house the two daughters of Henry Williams ran on to the dead body of Charles Harris, aged 25, a young farmer, north of here. By the side of Harris lay a revolver. He had been shot through the heart. The man was last seen in Cambridge City and the spot where he was found is lonely and unfrequented. He was not a drinking man and had no enemies. While all appearances indicate suicide, it is thought that Harris came to his death by other hands.

Grade Crossing Fatality.

Hamilton, Ohio, Sept. 12.—In a grade-crossing accident near Somerville Elmer Stubbs, aged 70, a wealthy farmer, was instantly killed. Frank Chaplin, aged 17, who was with him in a buggy, escaped unhurt.

The Birth of a New Business.

Wednesday morning, Sept. 14th, we open our new store at No. 11 Milwaukee street with a complete line of absolutely new and up to date Dry Goods and Notions and shall endeavor to make it favorably known to every man, woman and child in Janesville and this part of Wisconsin.

The policy of the house will be: ABSOLUTE INTEGRITY—SATISFACTION—ACCOMMODATION—with the purpose of winning and holding the CONFIDENCE of every individual who enters its doors.

Under no possible circumstances will this house sanction any word or deed of any employe designed to mislead a purchaser.

Whenever mistakes happen—as happen they must—the house will consider it a privilege to correct them with promptitude and courtesy.

The spirit of ACCOMMODATION will rule, and in the treatment of patrons and visitors this spirit will be developed to the fullest possible extent.

These are a few of the principles—the foundation stones—upon which this new business will stand. But greatest of all is that unequalled principle—that unshakable rock—TRUE INTEGRITY, upon which everlasting foundation this business will be fixed so firmly that it will become as a part of the rock itself.

As a further inducement to attend our opening sale we will offer to commence Wednesday a number of jobs and special lots that were secured while buying our stock in the east. These items will be specified in Tuesday's Gazette. WATCH THE ANNOUNCEMENT.

We therefore extend to all in and around Janesville a most cordial invitation to count this store as their own—to be free to feel perfectly at home here—to depend upon it—to criticise it to its managers, by which criticism we expect continually to improve it and make it more and more as you, the public, would like it.

HERBERT HOLME.

An Important Open Letter.

You undoubtedly have noticed the gradual rise in the price of wheat and flour—something unheard of at this time of the year. What will it be worth next winter or spring? This is a question nobody can answer, but a good many conservative people credit $1.50 wheat by next May. This would mean $7.50 to $8 per barrel of flour or $2 per sack.

This season has no comparison with other years. Our own crop is short—not over 500,000,000 bushels in sight, hardly enough to supply our population until another crop is harvested. Europe has the smallest crop for years and must buy some of our grain. This will mean high prices for grain another year.

Now is your time to lay in your supply of flour. We were fortunate enough to buy fifteen cars of flour before the advance, and are in position to offer it at the following prices for a short time: the very best patent flour on earth at the rate of $5.50 per bbl. or $1.37 1/2 per 50-lb. sack; a good straight flour at $4.75 per bbl. Don't delay as it may be too late to get another opportunity like this this year. We are selling Plymouth and Waterbury best standard binding twine, none better in the country, 10c lb.

Our stock of groceries is as complete as any in the state. You will find a good many bargains in our store not found in the average store. We claim also that we have the best coffee at 15c in the state; if you are used to paying 20 or 25c for coffee give this of ours at 15c a trial and see how easy it is to save 5 or 10c.

The finest full cream cheese, 16c per pound.
Come in and be with the crowd; you'll be happy.
Very respectfully,

PAUL RUDOLPH & SONS.
